

Congestion Pricing Debate: Brodsky on the 'Lock Box'

At The Politicker, Azi Paybarah posted two video clips from the February 17, 2008 debate on congestion pricing that featured Assembly Member Richard Brodsky opposing the congestion tax and lobbyist Michael O'Loughlin for the pro-tax forces. The debate moderated by Fred Siegel took place at Temple Beth Emeth in Brooklyn which also sponsored it with V'Ohr Progressive Shaari Zedek and The Reform Temple of Flatbush

View the video clips at

<http://video.google.com/videoplay?docid=-4682181889038085759&hl=en>

<http://video.google.com/videoplay?docid=3754303279554868296>

For the full post at The Politicker,

Congestion Pricing Debate: Brodsky on the 'Lock Box'

go to

<http://www.observer.com/2008/brodsky-vs-lock-box>