ALERT

New York-June 4..."A citywide air quality alert has been issued warning parents and children to limit their activity today for health reasons. Yet New York City and New York State know, empirically, that the congestion pricing tax will increase air pollution in low income New York City communities. What does that tell us? Revenue is more important to New York's leaders than the health of poor children." - Joshua Bienstock, spokesman, Keep NYC Congestion Tax Free.
